The United States of America, by and through the United States Attorney for the Eastern District of North Carolina, hereby files this Report on Matters concerning Defendant Subasic's Incarceration and Access to Materials at Trial.

1. The United States Marshal Service has been provided the relevant orders in regard to defendant Subasic's current access to a computer and other material, and has reviewed the orders in preparation for the trial.

2. The USMS is coordinating closely with the Wake County Detention Center and the potential facilities at which defendant Subasic may be housed at trial, to discern what issues, if any, arose with Subasic's computer access at Wake County. For instance, it was noted that although all internet access had been disabled from the computer to which Subasic had access, games had not been disabled. The USMS has requested that prior to the computer's transport to the New Bern area, an FBI computer technician purge the computer of those extraneous programs. It is anticipated, but not yet vetted, that stand-by counsel would agree to be present during the process, such that any privileged matters on the computer are not accessed or deleted inadvertently.

3. The USMS anticipates moving defendant Subasic, and his materials, at the same time. However, the USMS does need Subasic to have his materials packaged and ready for transport. The government has no information as to the volume of such paper and materials, and is unable to predict for the Court how many boxes the defendant might need to accomplish his packing. The USMS here gives Subasic notice that all material will be searched for contraband prior to transport, to include the opening of any sealed envelopes or boxes.

4. At this time, the USMS is attempting to duplicate Subasic's current conditions of confinement, with certain restrictions. First, Subasic will have access to only one cell while in trial. If his current materials and papers are too much for one cell, the USMS would request Subasic be required to reduce the amount of material to an amount appropriate for one cell. Second, there is no law library at any of the potential facilities, and the housing area in which Subasic will reside has no electrical outlets. Instead, the computer will be charged at the guard station, and given to Subasic for use in his cell until the battery needs to be re-charged. For this reason, the defendant and stand-by counsel may want to investigate the provision of a second battery that might charge while the computer is in use. All indications are the jail will not require a "lights out" which would restrict Subasic's ability to prepare for trial in his cell.

5. Other than these minor changes, the USMS will endeavor to duplicate Subasic's current level of access, while housed in the New Bern area. The USMS notes that this high level of access can only be maintained with Mr. Subasic's ongoing cooperation and adherence to any rules and/or requests reasonably presented him.

6. On a daily basis during trial, the USMS will only be able to transport Mr. Subasic and whatever he will be able to carry with him. To the extent the defendant needs boxes moved from the jail to the courthouse on a daily basis, other arrangements will need be made.

Respectfully submitted this 22nd day of July, 2011.
